Blaze A Trail To Camp This Summer

Dear Girl Scout Families, Friends, and Fellow Camp Enthusiasts,

There's a place where the scent of fresh pine fills the air, where dew sparkles on the trees before sunrise, and where laughter echoes across lakes and trails. That place is Girl Scout camp and I absolutely love it.

From the joy and giggles at Camp Echo's day camps, to the water play and adventure at Camp Alice Pittenger (CAP) in McCall, to the adventure challenges at Camp Ta-Man-A-Wis (TAM) in Swan Valley, our camps offer something for every girl and every family. These are places where Idaho's natural beauty meets the heart of Girl Scouting.

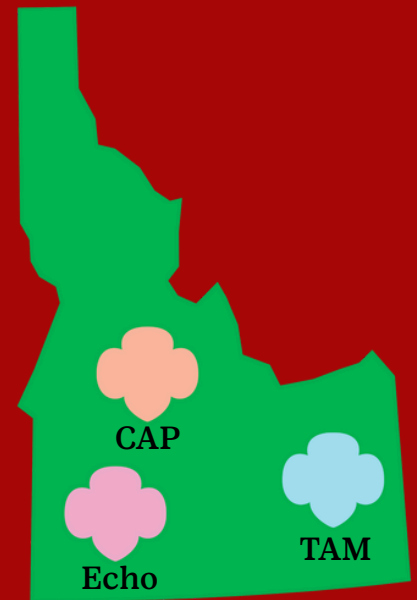

I love the quiet moments found in things like the peaceful solitude of early mornings, the crackle of the campfire, and the taste of slightly burned marshmallows. I love the sisterhood, the shared stories, and the friendships that form under starlit skies. I love the challenge of trying something new, the thrill of adventure, and the joy of simply being outside.

Our camps are more than destinations—they are experiences. They're where girls grow in confidence, families connect, and memories are made that last a lifetime. Whether you're joining us for a troop gathering, a family weekend, or a week-long adventure, you'll find that camp is where courage, connection, and Idaho values come to life.

I truly love Idaho—and I love Idaho outdoors. When you add in girls, families, and the spirit of Girl Scouting, the excitement and joy are multiplied beyond measure.

I hope to see you, and maybe your whole family, at one of our phenomenal camps this summer. Let's make memories together. Which Camp are you going to? See you there!

With campfire joy,
Dr. Angela "Blaze" Hemingway
CEO, Girl Scouts of Silver Sage Council
